The 2025 motor sport season has concluded with a stunning FIA Awards show tonight, 12 December, in Uzbekistan's capital, Tashkent. Gathering the champions and stars from across the FIA's seven World Championship categories, it was a night to remember not only for the winners, but also for the 2,500 motor sport fans who joined their heroes in Tashkent's Humo Arena for the first time ever.

In the presence of FIA President Mohammed Ben Sulayem and the Prime Minister of the Republic of Uzbekistan, Abdulla Aripov, the ceremony

While the Uzbek capital of Tashkent doesn't currently host Grand Prix races or other motorsport events, it was the venue for the prestigious FIA awards ceremony. The Humo Arena, an ice rink transformed into a performance hall for the occasion, saw a parade of top racing drivers, who had traded their racing suits for suits and bow ties for the evening. 2,500 motorsport fans were also on hand to see their idols crowned with glory at the end of action-packed seasons – whether in Formula 1, a
